PREFACE.

THE collection of Paper Money offers attractions unequalled by any of the hobbies which usually occupy the attention of the dilettante, while the rarity of such collections, and the high facial value of the bills fill our minds with thoughts on the mutability of this world's riches. Here we have notes which only one hundred years ago passed current for two thousand dollars, selling for a dollar or two, while other bills, equally old and interesting, can be purchased for twenty-five cents. They were all issued in good faith by the government, have made dozens happy before the inevitable repudiation came, and then perhaps brought ruin to their holders. From that time they have been carefully hoarded in the vain hope that they might be redeemed some day; then after several generations have passed, they are brought forth from their hiding places to enrich the album of the intelligent amateur.

Against our present knowledge of the engraver's art and the various industries which are used in the manufacture of paper money, the efforts of our forefathers are almost comical, the adornments of the note being in most cases simply a caricature, the patriotic mottoes high flown or absurd, although intensely interesting, while the paper runs from thin tissue up to rough card board, and this again has been made difficult to counterfeit by mixing mica or silk threads with the pulp. Another device to baffle the counterfeiter, was the misspelling of words on different notes; thus, on one series of bills we have the name differently given on each value, viz: Pennsylvania, Pensylvania, Pennsilvania, and Pensilvania.

The signing of any issue of Colonial or Continental notes was effected by the selection of say twenty well known citizens for this purpose, any two or three of whom could sign the bills; thus, nearly any old American family can find the signature of their ancestors on the bills of this class. Samples of such notes can usually be purchased for a dollar each, the small extra charge being made for looking up the particular name. One of the great advantages of selecting paper money as the object of pursuit, is the ease with which it can be divided into suitable parts, and the small outlay of cash necessary to secure an interesting collection. For instance, we can confine ourselves to any of the following divisions.

COLONIAL MONEY as a series, or the bills of any particular State, or even one of each design of all the States,—say fifty bills in all.

CONTINENTAL BILLS, one of each value (23 bills), or the complete set (111 bills).

CONFEDERATE BILLS. A complete set of all the bills issued only amount to 71 notes; or this again can be amplified by adding the issues of the State Banks.

FRACTIONAL CURRENCY. A beautiful set of all the small notes issued by our Government from 1862 to 1875 only numbers 30 pieces, but when the amateur desires to collect all the minor varieties, he can run the list up to nearly three times the number; in this connection, it is well to note the following:—

Patrons in ordering should always state the kind of a collection they are forming, because unless they desire to get every variety, we can often supply at the same price when out of the exact bill ordered a more desirable note (either in condition or by catalogue price) of the same design, but of a different variety in the case of Fractional Currency, or of a different date or denomination of Colonial or Continental Bill. This is a decided advantage to the buyer which we have to stand, owing to the impossibility of keeping a full line of all bills in stock.

NOTE.—Unsigned notes printed on blue paper are occasionally met with; they were supplied to the banks to compare with suspected bills; they are usually dated July 22, 1776. The series of May 20th, 1777, and April 11th, 1778, were withdrawn, and after destroying $19,848,268, the remainder was repudiated by the government on account of numerous counterfeits in circulation, although they are quite easy of detection. For much interesting information see the American Journal of Philately for June 1 and 15, 1888.

* Notes marked with an asterisk are not known in collections at present, our list being taken from the State records of their issue.

In regard to prices, we quote those usually in stock; collectors in ordering, would do well to make their list considerably in excess of the amount they enclose.

CONFEDERATE NOTES.

Of all classes of Paper Money which can be procured at moderate expense, these are the most interesting, both from the multiplicity of designs, and from their being the principal relics of the greatest of civil wars. The beautifully engraved notes issued at Montgomery, at the beginning of the war, (May, 1861,) with the imprint of the National Bank Note Co. of New York, are especially prized.

We have also a large variety of Bonds and State Bills, selections of which we will send on approval to parties who furnish satisfactory references.

In ordering it will be sufficient to give the Number of the note and price.

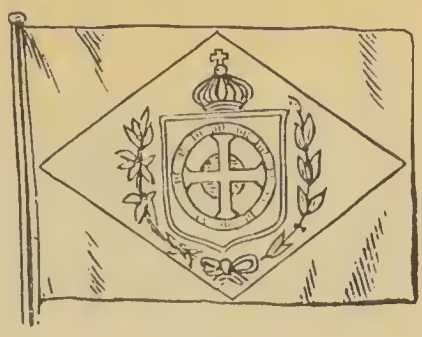
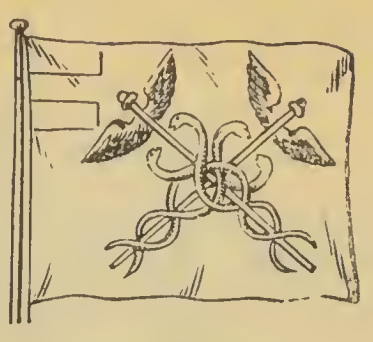
THE MERCHANT FLAGS OF THE WORLD.

AUSTRIAN-ITALY.



BRAZIL.



FINLAND.

Uncolored fac-similes, showing size and style.

"These brilliant colored Flags faithfully represent the emblems of the different nations of the earth, and as such are a great acquisition to any Album, while the exceedingly low price (25 cents) at which they are published places them within the reach of all."

"This Chart containing many Flags never before published, has been collected with great care, and can be relied upon as being strictly accurate, and by its aid the nationality of any ship may be easily determined, as it gives the Flag of the NATION instead of the gorgeous piece of bunting which simply belongs to one family, and is seldom, if ever, seen out of their country."

"These sheets possess three great advantages (to the Collector) over any other we are acquainted with, which consist in the facts that there is only one Flag to each country: more nations represented than have heretofore been given, and only Flags of those countries which issue postage stamps. These we consider of great importance to those who buy them to put in albums, as they can use them all instead of having to throw away half the purchase The colors are very brilliant, and withal correct, and being printed on very thin paper, the book is not swelled to an inordinate thickness."

Beautifully and correctly printed in FIVE colors on thin paper for albums. Price only 25 cents.
